MICHELLE WU – Mayor of Boston

MATT O'MALLEY – President, City Council

Michelle Wu sworn in as Mayor of Boston

Mayor Wu, the first woman and first person of color to be elected Mayor of Boston, took the oath of office in the Boston City Council Chamber, just two weeks after her history-making election.

The first time I set foot in Boston City Hall, I felt invisible. Today I see what's possible in this building, and I see all the public servants raising us up – frontline workers, first responders, teachers and bus drivers, building inspectors, city workers. I am deeply honored to work alongside you and I ask everyone to join me in expressing our gratitude for your service. And I ask everyone to join us in service of our communities.

Boston, our charge is clear. We need everyone to join us in the work of doing the big and the small, getting City Hall out of City Hall, and embracing the possibility of our city.

The reason to make a Boston for everyone is because we need everyone for Boston, right now.

We have so much work to do, and it will take all of us to get it done. So let's get to work.
